Conference Theme:

Home Is Where The Heart Is ...

The H, the Heart, we are the Heart, the physical, and spiritual hearts of our homes. We determine the pulse of our homes, we have the opportunity to capture our children's hearts for Jesus!

The O represents God's Omnipotence in our lives, His great glorified presence in our lives and homes.

The M represents Memories. Our homes provide the place where we can create and share memories with our family and others. Memories are the things we will each remember about our homes as time passes on, the precious special times you share with each other.

The E represents En Gedi. King David had his retreat or escape from Saul as well as his place of rest. Our homes are that En Gedi, that place of rest that we all yearn for, that place that we can be ourselves and not feel judged or unworthy.

2011-2012 PWOC International Theme

Scripture: Matthew 6:9-13 NKJV

"In this manner, therefore, pray: Our Father in heaven, Hallowed be Your name. ¹⁰Your kingdom come. Your will be done on earth as it is in heaven. ¹¹Give us this day our daily bread. ¹²And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. ¹³And do not lead us into temptation, But deliver us from the evil one. For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory."

Amy J. Stephens

"There is no greater freedom and life than that found in surrender to Christ!" This is not only the statement that's been a theme saying for Amy, but it's a proven conclusion that one must come to after looking at how God has worked in impossible ways through the life of this one person. Amy lives in Nashville, TN, where she is an active member of Fellowship Bible Church and is very involved with the Post-College ministry when home. Amy gave her life to the Lord fully at age 14 and years of competition in speech, music and drama; touring with various Christian groups (Continental Singers, Jeremiah People, and a year on her own singing nationally); and extensive experience in performance at military occasions, and churches. In 2002 she added to her resume a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Communications with a minor in Bible from Pensacola Christian College, and she followed His leading to L.A. where she had been blessed to work in the movie industry for two years.

God began laying on Amy's heart that He had designed her for more and began opening new doors in 2005 when God directed Amy to Nashville, TN. Three months later, God led Amy to step out in faith and trust when He provided a God-ordained invitation to be the speaker for a women's retreat at a military base in Naples, Italy. Little did she know that this invitation would spark 6 European tours thus far, other tours in Korea and various other parts of Asia, Australia and New Zealand, and various U.S. venues. In 2008 God led towards the beginning of Meant For More (a non-profit 501C3 ministry). She now ministers full time speaking at conferences and retreats, performing concerts, and also using her dramatic skills to portray productions of books of Scripture.

Raised in a military family (father Navy Chaplain) and as the eldest of 4 children she was poured into at an early age and throughout her life by parents whose lives proved that loving God was the only way to truly live, all 4 children are now all in ministry as their legacy. As only God could have ordered, her upbringing seemed a natural fit for what He has now called her to: extensive and extreme travel; fast-paced lifestyle; missionary-mindset and sacrificial service; integrating with people from all ages. It's obvious that God has uniquely designed her as a nearly all-purpose kind of tool with a heart for America and a love for the world!
