

2011-2012
PWOCI THEME

Your Kingdom Come

Protestant Women of the Chapel • Matthew 6:9-13 (NKJV)

Scripture:

Matthew 6:9-13 (New King James Version)

- 9 In this manner, therefore, pray:
Our Father in heaven, Hallowed be Your name.
10 Your kingdom come. Your will be done On earth as it is in heaven.
11 Give us this day our daily bread.
12 And forgive us our debts, As we forgive our debtors.
13 And do not lead us into temptation, But deliver us from the evil one.
For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory

Hymn:

“The Lord’s Prayer” by Albert Hay Malotte © 1935

Praise and Worship Song:

“Let Your Glory Fall” by David Ruis , © Vineyard Music

2011-2012
PWOCI THEME

Your Kingdom Come

Protestant Women of the Chapel • Matthew 6:9-13 (NKJV)

Scripture:

Matthew 6:9-13 (New King James Version)

- 9 In this manner, therefore, pray:
Our Father in heaven, Hallowed be Your name.
10 Your kingdom come. Your will be done On earth as it is in heaven.
11 Give us this day our daily bread.
12 And forgive us our debts, As we forgive our debtors.
13 And do not lead us into temptation, But deliver us from the evil one.
For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory

Hymn:

“The Lord’s Prayer” by Albert Hay Malotte © 1935

Praise and Worship Song:

“Let Your Glory Fall” by David Ruis , © Vineyard Music

Theme Art Explanation:

Your Kingdom Come theme art is centered on the Matthew 6:9-13 passage, the model prayer Jesus taught His disciples. The theme design draws from many principles found in this significant scripture.

“Our Father in heaven, Hallowed be Your name.” Rays of light, from our Father in heaven, come down from above.

“Your kingdom come. Your will be done, On earth as it is in heaven.”

The light flows down from heaven above, intersecting with the earth that we inhabit. When our lives and our wills are surrendered to Him, the life we live becomes a beautiful relationship between the King and the one in service to Him. This connection between the light and the earth signifies living life in communion with the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is illustrated by the dove, who is the power of God working in us, aligning the will for our life to that will which is in heaven. The globe represents our calling to take the Gospel to the uttermost parts of the earth.

“Give us this day our daily bread” is portrayed in the subtle loaf of bread to the left of the rays of light, reminding us of that which provides us physical sustenance. Our daily bread also represents a spiritual truth as we daily require communion with the Word of God.

“And forgive us our debts, As we forgive our debtors.” The lily in the bottom left represents the forgiveness we receive and give. The white in the lily stands for our purity in Christ. It is accented in red, pointing to the blood of Christ, which makes possible God's beautiful plan of salvation and His gracious means of providing forgiveness for our sins.

“And do not lead us into temptation, But deliver us from the evil one. For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen” The crown in the stained background, and the keys in the border represent The Kingdom of God and He who holds the keys to the Kingdom.

Your Kingdom Come

Protestant Women of the Chapel • Matthew 6:9-13 (NKJV)

Theme Art Explanation:

Your Kingdom Come theme art is centered on the Matthew 6:9-13 passage, the model prayer Jesus taught His disciples. The theme design draws from many principles found in this significant scripture.

“Our Father in heaven, Hallowed be Your name.” Rays of light, from our Father in heaven, come down from above.

“Your kingdom come. Your will be done, On earth as it is in heaven.”

The light flows down from heaven above, intersecting with the earth that we inhabit. When our lives and our wills are surrendered to Him, the life we live becomes a beautiful relationship between the King and the one in service to Him. This connection between the light and the earth signifies living life in communion with the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is illustrated by the dove, who is the power of God working in us, aligning the will for our life to that will which is in heaven. The globe represents our calling to take the Gospel to the uttermost parts of the earth.

“Give us this day our daily bread” is portrayed in the subtle loaf of bread to the left of the rays of light, reminding us of that which provides us physical sustenance. Our daily bread also represents a spiritual truth as we daily require communion with the Word of God.

“And forgive us our debts, As we forgive our debtors.” The lily in the bottom left represents the forgiveness we receive and give. The white in the lily stands for our purity in Christ. It is accented in red, pointing to the blood of Christ, which makes possible God's beautiful plan of salvation and His gracious means of providing forgiveness for our sins.

“And do not lead us into temptation, But deliver us from the evil one. For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen” The crown in the stained background, and the keys in the border represent The Kingdom of God and He who holds the keys to the Kingdom.

Your Kingdom Come

Protestant Women of the Chapel • Matthew 6:9-13 (NKJV)